II.1.4) Description of the service: ⁽²⁾

Friuli Innovazione intends to outsource the organisation of a two-day event for a total of 12 hours, dedicated to developing startup and SME business projects. Target set: 20-25 participants.

Namely, the service requested will be divided as follows:

- Briefing to define the needs of the Friuli Innovation client (target identification, project and program constraints, event objectives), within two days from assigning the task
- Consultancy in defining the format at Friuli Innovazione, which maintains the artistic direction of the event
- Identification, contracting and coordination of moderators/facilitators/speakers with extensive and documented experience in the themes and methodologies (active and participatory) on which the Boot Camp will be based, including, by way of an example, the following techniques: business modelling, negotiation, networking, design-thinking, digital marketing, gamification and value mapping.
- Definition of a pre and post-event promotional plan, to stimulate participation and publicize the results of the event and the project through the media, especially the social networks throughout the area of the Interreg Italy-Austria program ;
- Organizing secretariat: sending mass invitation mailings, collecting participations, putting together and distributing any material for participants (provided by the client), registering participants, presence on site during the event for logistic support, management of follow-up communications, distributing and collecting satisfaction questionnaires (provided by the client);
- Contractualization and coordination of suppliers for audio-visual footage and photos focusing on individual pre and post-event projects;

- Setting up of the location with any consumables and other materials required by the selected activities format (for example: blackboards, flip charts, markers, post-it notes, coloured cardboard, useful models and other specific material to be used during the event)
- Inspection of the Friuli Innovazione facilities that have been identified for the Boot Camp, to be carried out at least one week prior to the event.
- Implementation of a photo book of the event, short footage of interviews with participants and facilitators for dissemination

The languages of the event will be English and/or Italian based on the language skills of the participants and/or the moderator/facilitator selected.
